ETRA Symposium Series

ETRA 2010 will be the sixth biennial symposium in a series that started in 2000 and is focused on all aspects of eye movement research across a wide range of disciplines. The goal of ETRA is to bring together computer scientists, engineers and behavioral scientists in support of a common vision of enhancing eye tracking research and applications. Regular themes of ETRA papers include advances in eye tracking technology, visual attention and eye movement control, and eye tracking applications. ETRA 2010 has "Eye Tracking and Accessibility" as a special theme.

Visibility for exhibitors and sponsors

ETRA has established itself as the premiere conference devoted to eye tracking technology and applications. Attendance at ETRA has been steadily growing, reaching 100 delegates in the 2008 conference. ETRA 2010 is following on the success of the five previous symposia: research in eye tracking world wide has increased, and we expect the growing trend to continue.

A feature unique to ETRA is that the exhibit is an integral part of the conference program. A full session, with no talks competing for attendance, is devoted to the exhibition. This provides a unique opportunity for researchers to get a close view of recent advances in eye tracking technology, and for industry delegates to get insightful feedback from academia. Following the successful practice started in 2006, refreshments will be served to participants in the exhibit hall. Since the talks in ETRA are of interest to vendors as well, the exhibit package includes one complimentary registration. To support informal encounters, lunches are included in ETRA registration.

ETRA provides additional visibility to industry in two sponsorship categories. Exhibitors will receive recognition in the conference events and proceedings. Sponsors also have the opportunity to include printed material in the delegate packs.

Information on exhibitors and sponsors will be displayed at ETRA website (<http://etra.cs.uta.fi>) as soon as the registration form has been submitted. The program for full paper presentations will be available on the web in mid-December 2009, and late-breaking contributions will be selected in mid-January 2010. Thus early contractors will receive maximum visibility, as potential delegates will frequently access the site.
